Dear Partners and Friends,

We are delighted to announce that Prime Meridian (PM) Consulting Private Limited (Gurugram, New Delhi) has been selected as certified solution provider partner for FLIGBY blended learning services in India, one of the region's leading leadership development company led by Pavan Bakshi, CEO, Chief Facilitator and Executive Coach.

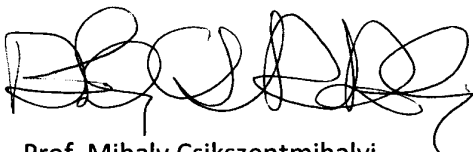

FLIGBY, the official Flow-program, is an online, scenario-based serious game in an interactive movie format. In this virtual reality, each participant is charged with leading a management team comprised of 8 pretty sophisticated individuals. As the CEO of a fine Californian Vineyard players must build a cohesive leadership team, craft a strategy, handle conflict situations, prioritize tasks, and resolve a plethora of day-to-day leadership and management dilemmas.

Our goal is to combine FLIGBY's award winning game-based people-analytics and PM Consulting's onsite programs and coaching services to provide the most comprehensive leadership development solutions for all of our Indian customers. This blended learning approach is expected to give business executives and managers the ability to understand and learn visionary leadership characteristics and to be a more proactive and at the same time a more thoughtful leader gaining practical experience of planning and executing change management processes.

For additional information, please visit <http://pmconsulting.in/>. To request a private demonstration of FLIGBY programs, call +91-96500 80246

We're looking forward to working with Pavan's great team.

May the Flow be with you,

Prof. Mihaly Csikszentmihalyi
